PAPILIO TO PLAY AT EVERGREEN THEATRE

THE NEXT OFFERING at the Evergreen Theatre in East Margaretsville is an emerging Celtic group from Halifax, whose members have some pretty impressive musical chops. The concert is on Saturday August 21 and reservations/tickets can be obtained online at www.evergreentheatre.ca, or at evergreentheatre@gmail.com or 902-825-6834.

Papilio, a neo-traditional band from Nova Scotia, captures the spirit and drive of traditional Celtic, Folk, Nordic, and World music while giving it a new, contemporary, creative twist that is all their own. More than a Ceilidh band, they are a progressive neo-traditional trio that invites the listener on an auditory journey through Ireland, Scotland, the Maritimes, Brittany (the Celtic region of France), Galicia/Asturia (Celtic regions of Spain), Scandinavia, Eastern Europe, and beyond, adding a sprinkle of folk ballads and their own "in-the-tradition" original compositions.

Colin Jeffrey (fiddle) grew up in the United States and on Prince Edward Island playing Classical and Celtic music on the violin. His interest in music took him to Memorial University of Newfoundland where he completed his Bachelor degree in music performance.

Jennifer Publicover (flutes, bodhrán) leads a double life as an active freelancer on both the modern orchestral flute and wooden Irish flute, and makes full use of both instruments in Papilio. She is also a member of the neo-celtic band Fancy's Flight. A familiar face at Halifax sessions, she has been a long-time participant in and supporter of the Boxwood Festival, an annual traditional flute workshop in Lunenburg directed by recording artist Chris Norman. In her alter ego as a classical flutist, she performs as an alternate player for such institutions as the Charlottetown Festival Orchestra and Symphony Nova Scotia.

Phil Schappert (guitar, cittern, vocals) has been playing for more years than he can remember. Dr. Phil, as his students know him, is also a PhD entomologist/botanist who has written books about plant/insect interactions (FYI, Papilio is a genus of swallowtail butterflies, represented in Nova Scotia by Papilio Canadensis, the Canadian Tiger Swallowtail). Phil is also a member of the band Fancy's Flight.

PARK IT AT THE PORT

My name is Lia and I have a feel-good story for you. I live in Port Williams having moved here from Toronto five years ago. PW is a great place to live and now its even better because of our new park.

The park, which was just something a lot of parents talked about doing, is now a reality. To see people arriving from sun up to sun down by foot, bike or by car is a dream come true. And it's not just a place for Port residents, we also have people visiting the park from many other communities. They tell us, "we love this park!" And we love hearing that.

In two years' time we have raised money and built: a parking lot, a hard surface court for basketball and ball hockey, a walking trail, and my favourite because it keeps my boys busy - a great play structure with FIVE amazing slides! We are getting ready to build a park pavilion next. That work will be done by Wise Owl Joinery, located in Port Williams.

We have gone local as much as possible in terms of hiring people to work on the park. And not enough can be said about this amazing community (and those around us) who have really dug in their heels and helped out either by providing labour at no cost, lending machinery, baking for an event, or giving their time to make an event happen.

With grants and fundraisers (we ran 12 in 2009) we have raised approximately $140,000! We are now in the home stretch.

The biggest blockbuster of the fall season is back again with Park It at the Port - The Sequel. Last year, our goal to raise $10K for Play was SMASHED to bits as we raised more than $20K in one night! This year's Park It at the Port will take place on Saturday, September 18th at the Port Pub. The money raised from this event will go towards the park pavilion and if there is anything left over, we will put it away for maintenance needs. Parks are expensive.

We have Jon Duggan to entertain

This event will feature 12 songwriters/ensembles who have written songs about the market just for this occasion. The purpose of the event is to raise money for the Wolfville Farmers' Market's new permanent home at the DeWolfe Building, and also to celebrate the music and creativity which abounds at our market.

The show starts at 8pm and takes place at the Al Whittle Theatre (450 Main St. Wolfville) on Sunday August 22.

There will be a silent auction and brick sale in the lobby of the theatre before the show and during intermission.

the guests, appetizers, door prizes and some amazing silent/live auction items. Last year this event sold out. This year, the Port Pub has opened up the entire restaurant for this event. We hope to sell 150 tickets.

As mentioned, we are in the home stretch. We hope this will be the last fundraiser we need.

If you require any more information, please don't hesitate to contact me at this email or by calling me at, 542-9648. And do check out our web site, www.pwpark.ca.

COUNTRY COMPANION FOR ENHANCED INDEPENDENT LIVING OUTREACH

Hello, my name is Flora. I am presenting an outreach service to Hants/Kings counties to assist our seniors to live independently longer. I am offering a new service to seniors by lending a hand with those tasks of everyday living such as transportation to and from shopping, medical appointments, and/or social activities. As for other tasks I will assist them in finding the right person for their needs. As a companion I will also be there to insure their safety, provide companionship and advocacy, as required and desired. I can also look in on them on a regular basis to insure they are doing well, especially for those whose families do not live nearby. I will also offer respite services for families currently looking after an aging parent. Most importantly I believe is that in assisting our seniors to get out into the community and interact as they once did it will alleviate the loneliness and subsequent depression that is prevalent in a number of our seniors. It will also give loved ones "Peace of Mind" to know that their loved ones are having their needs met. Our seniors are our heritage; let us embrace that heritage and allow them their voice to stay where they have lived their lives in comfort and ease. I am experienced and insured to give our seniors the best possible service. I have a B.A. in Sociology from Acadia University, Adult and Child Care Certificate from NSIT,

FARMERS FOR FOOD BANKS: Windsor Farmers' Market & Matthew 25 Food Bank Together Feeding Our Community – BACK TO SCHOOL FOOD DRIVE!

When: Friday August 27, 2010 from 4 – 8 PM

Where: The Windsor Farmers' Market Waterfront Coach House.

MUSIC by Andy and Ariana and 4 H will be hosting a kid's craft table

Why: Everyone has a right to access healthy food! Matthew 25 Food Bank has a shortage of food. The Farmers' Market, a developing market, values people's right to access quality food. The Windsor Farmers' Market provides local fresh food from rural farms to the Town of Windsor to promote accessible, healthy, quality food for the whole community! Together - with your help - we want to alleviate hunger from people in our community; and promote healthier food choices for a healthier community!

You can help by:

- ❖ Bringing non-perishable items to the farmers market and/or purchasing local vegetables or fruit to donate.
- ❖ Encouraging the growth and development of the Windsor Farmers Market by attending each week – The Windsor Farmers' Market can become a vibrant experience for the whole community – we need YOU to create this experience!
- ❖ Sharing your ideas & suggestions – drop a note in the suggestion box at the Windsor Farmers' Market
- ❖ Volunteering – as a developing market we need resources and time is a valuable resource - we can always use help.

OUTDOOR OUTLOOKS

For four years now runners have tumbled out of their respective stomping grounds to get a crack at one of the most awe inspiring & bizarre running experiences out there. The run is tongue and cheek-ly titled Not Since Moses. The Bay of Fundy provides the backdrop for this unique race along the stunning, vista littered coast line that stretches from Economy to Parrsboro. The tidal flats that stretch out from these maroon beaches are the most expansive our little blue planet has to offer. It is these flat, dynamic, stretches of ocean floor, paired with the pull of the tide that allow just enough time and space for the runners of the world to get down and dirty with a five or ten kilometer run/walk.

"It's the only race you will ever see people stopping to take pictures along the way on. This is by far my favorite part of the province," says owner of The Trail Shop and Co-Race Director Joachim Stroink, with a big smile might I add. Together Joachim, and NSM race director Dick Lemon have been exposing people to the relatively underappreciated gem that is the Five Islands and Economy area. This year the race brought over eleven hundred people, from almost every province in Canada, several States from our neighbors below us, including Alabama, Mass, and Missouri, and even a handful of European countries including the UK and Austria. All of the finds raised through registration goes back to serve the community that hosts it. For more information on the Bay fund

WEARING PEARLS IN THE KITCHEN

I like kitchen gadgets. I don't go too crazy, but I can't live without things like my candy thermometer, my microplane or my muddler for lime and minty mojito goodness! But back to the candy thermometer. It's amazing what sugar can do when it's heated to a certain temperature and how different it turns out if it's just a couple degrees higher or lower. It's magic, I tell you! So, I recommend those who don't have a candy thermometer, go out and get one! It's like a magic wand. You'll be like Harry Potter in the kitchen. Ok, maybe not, but you'll have lots of fun! ~ Victoria Comeau

Frozen Grand Marnier Soufflés

- 1 cup caster (superfine) sugar
- 6 large eggs, separated
- 1 cup milk
- ½ ounce powdered, unflavoured gelatine, soaked in 3 TBSP cold water
- 3 TBSP water
- 1 ¾ cup heavy cream
- 4 TBSP Grand Marnier

Tie a double collar of waxed or parchment paper around 8 ramekins. Make sure it extends about an inch above the rim. Secure with elastic bands, if you like. Put 6 TBSP of the sugar in a bowl with 6 egg yolks and whisk until pale.

Heat the milk until almost boiling and slowly pour it onto the yolks, whisking the whole time. Return the mixture to the pan and stir over a gentle heat until it gets thick enough to coat the back of a spoon.

Remove the pan from the heat and stir in the soaked gelatine. Pour into bowl and leave to cool. Whisk occasionally, until it is on the point of setting.

Put the remaining sugar in a pan with the water and dissolve it over low heat. Bring to a rapid boil until the candy thermometer reads 119°C/238°F. Remove from heat.

In a clean, dry bowl, whisk the egg whites until stiff. Pour the hot syrup onto the egg whites, with the beater still going, until thoroughly combined, set aside and cool.

Whisk the cream until it holds soft peaks. This means it will look like melting marshmallows on a campfire (yum!). Add the Grand Marnier to the cold custard and fold gently into the meringue mixture (you want as much air as possible in your mixture; it's what makes it so fluffy and light). Fold in the whipped cream. Quickly pour into the waiting ramekins and freeze overnight. Remove the paper before serving with orange slices or chocolate anything!

WINDS OF CHANGE TEA

by Angie Jenkins, B.A., Certified Herbalist, www.sisterlotus.com

Late Summer is often a time of major change for many of us as we head back to school or to work, move to a new community, or end & begin new relationships. The following tea blend will help you stay calm & grounded during this time of metamorphosis within our selves as well as in nature.

- 2 pts. Licorice Root
- 2 pts. Borage Leaves
- 1 pt. Wood Betony
- 1 pt. Catnip
- 1 pt. Chamomile

Use 1 tsp. of tea blend per cup of H2O. Add boiling water & let steep for 10 minutes. Strain & Serve.*

Bulk herbs can be found at certain health food stores or from naturopaths and herbalists.*

ADC COMMUNITY DANCE SEASON 2010-2011!

Acadia Dance Collective Community is a not-for-profit dance education programme that has been serving the Annapolis Valley from Wolfville since 2004. Our talented dance instructors are most often Acadia University dancers and come from all over the world to share their experiences within the community. ADCCommunity provides Acadia students with opportunities to gain work experience and for community integration while also providing financially accessible dance & movement education opportunities within the community. ADCCommunity not only holds an annual dance season and annual Dance Camps, but also features one-time dance opportunities such as Breakdance Workshops featuring Concrete Roots (Nov 20th) and a Ballet Workshop with the very talented Larissa Law (Aug 24th). ADCCommunity instructors also love to share their skills for private/birthday parties, classroom dance initiatives & physical education, Exploratories, afterschool programming, and even lunchtime dance clubs! Quelques unes de nos instructrices peuvent enseigner les leçons de danse en français aussi! Mention that you learned about ADCCommunity from this Grapevine issue and receive 5% off annual dance fees for the 2010-2011 dance season (conditions apply; contact us for details). For information on ADCCommunity and Registration for the upcoming dance season, please visit us online: www.ADCCommunity.com

Fundy Film Line-Up

Hello everyone and greetings.

Will and I have just finished up the Fundy Film web site (www.fundyfilm.ca) for the Autumn 2010 schedule including blurbs, posters and trailers. Plus, we also wanted to share with you the list of 23 films that the FFS Film Selection Committee has chosen to screen at the Al Whittle Theatre, Sept - Dec 2010.

By booking early for these Fundy Films, you will help us keep afloat!

Our prepaid 6-Pack tickets (6 films for $36 vs $8 general admission) will be available at the COLVILLE screenings on August 29, and at all Fundy Film screenings through October 17.

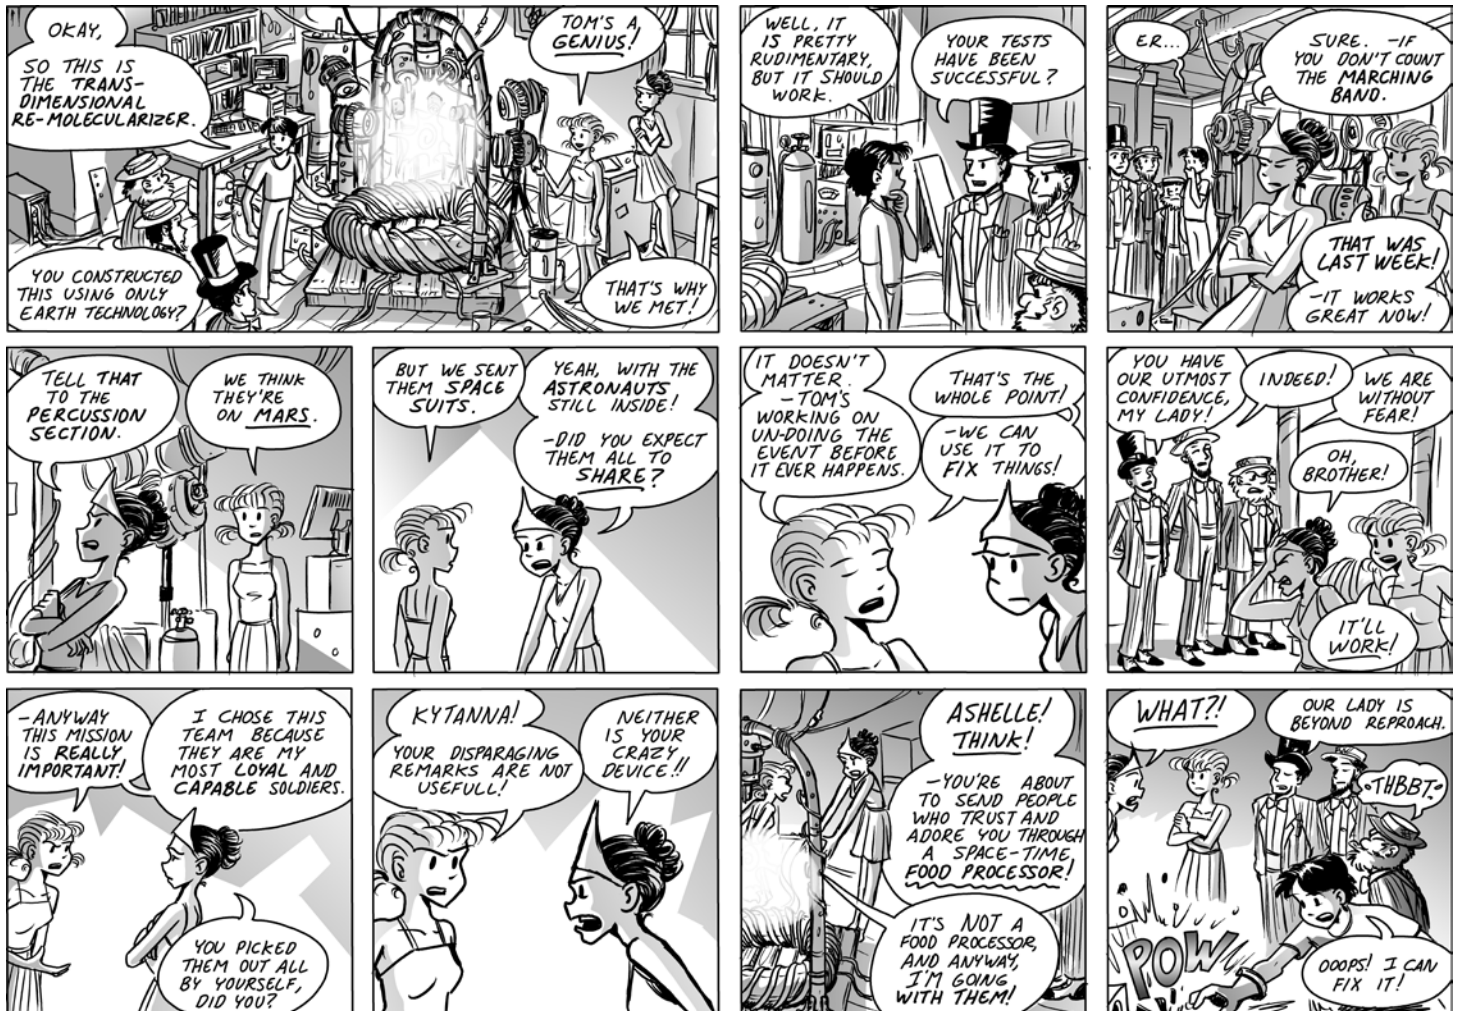

Reminder: COLVILLE is a Special FFS presentation with a free-will offering so no 6-Pack tickets may be used. After FFS expenses all proceeds from those screenings will go to the Valley Hospice Foundation.

Our little committee works very hard to achieve the balance of light and heavy, English and subtitles, and a good douse of fine Canadiana. And all must be worthy. Questions and comments can be sent to info@fundyfilm.ca. Thank you everyone.

WHO'S WHO: LINDA LEVY-FISK AND TIM FISK: LEND THEM YOUR EARS!

As a writer, I continue to look for challenges when approaching my work, so for this issue's Who's Who I decided to pick not one, but TWO Wolfville residents to profile... It wouldn't have felt right profiling one without the other as they make such a great team! Ladies and Gentlemen, please meet Tim Fisk and his wife Linda Levy-Fisk, owners and operators of the Wolfville Hearing Clinic and Babble and Beyond Speech-Language Services at 414 Main Street, Wolfville.

Linda and Tim both grew up in Nova Scotia. Tim graduated from MSVU with a degree in Math and Computer Science and was working as a programmer/analyst when he met the lovely Linda, who was taking English Literature at the time. Tim also holds a degree in Music from St. FX and a Master of Science degree in Audiology from UWO. Linda has an Education degree from Dalhousie, an honors degree in Psychology from St. FX and a Master of Science degree in Speech-Language Pathology from UWO...Phew! They've been married for 21 of their 25 years together and have two fabulous children, Aidan and Hannah, who can often be found helping out at the clinic making it a true family business!

Tim and Linda opened the Wolfville Hearing Clinic in February 2010 and Linda moved her Babble and Beyond Services in shortly thereafter and because the business is independently owned and operated, they are able to source a wide variety of hearing aid options to best suit their client's individual needs. Linda sees adults and children with a wide range of communication needs including articulation, phonology, stuttering, voice difficulties and language rehabilitation. If you are feeling down in the mouth, just pay Linda a visit!

Tim and Linda are deeply committed to offering the best customer service they can and chose Wolfville because of its beauty, university influence, and strong community feel, and because of so many great arts events in the area. They say it's a great place to raise a family and with interests in acting, swimming, reading, and biking, there's no place more perfect than Wolfville for Hannah and Aidan.

It's not all work for this charming duo. Tim plays the drums and bass around town and loves jazz. He takes care of the chickens and crops on the family's farm, and spends a lot of time renovating their office building on Main Street. (check out his great work on the reception desk) Linda also brags that Tim is quite the chef and goes on and on about his buns! (Cinnamon, that is!)

Linda, like me, has recently discovered the wonderful world of acting. You may have seen her in the Stage Prophets production of The Sound of Music or if you head to CentreStage before the end of the month, you'll catch her playing Shelby in Steel Magnolias. I'm telling you folks, she's brilliant in this play! Linda also did some work with Jason Priestly in Call Me Fitz (shot in New Minas) and recently played a diner patron in the Wolfville shot November Christmas. Remember me when you give your Oscar speech Linda... and maybe one day we'll even get to work together! And something we all should know about Linda: She has quite the unhealthy obsession with U2!

Visit Tim and Linda at their clinic at 414 Main Street, Suite 1, Wolfville, phone 542-0024 to set up an appointment or email questions or comments to tlfisk@ns.sympatico.ca. They'd love to have you come in and check out their services. Get your hearing tested, get help with your speech... it'll make perfect sense! (Yuk Yuk!)

WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO THE BOOT? FRITZ'S rooftop boot in New Minas may soon be shaking off its guy wires and taking a walk, as business owners Frieda and Gerd Burger start planning for retirement.

AFTER MORE THAN 30 YEARS AS A LOCAL LANDMARK, the big yellow boot on the roof of FRITZ'S in New Minas may be looking for a new home. Owners Frieda and Gerd Burger have decided it's time to take things a little easier. They've sold the building and the Enviro-Depot recycling division although not the business itself.

"We don't know yet what will happen to the boot," Frieda says. "The future of the store is undetermined at this time."

The tentative closing date is September 30th, with a closing-out sale starting in August.

Many local people have grown up with the boot, using it to get their bearings since childhood. Justin Flemming, manager of Andy's Tire Shop in New Minas, remembers car trips with his parents to visit family in Kentville. "As a kid I always wanted to know, 'Are we there yet?' But instead I'd ask my dad, 'Are we at the boot yet?' I knew that once I saw the boot, we were nearly there."

VISITOR & A RANDOM ACT OF KINDNESS

As it goes with 12 year olds, their parents try to teach them some responsibility. One young man was asked to shovel the driveway of an elderly neighbour during the winter. Whenever he did it, she would offer him $2.00, which when you're 12, could add up to buy something you really want. But, every time, he would decline, so she would invite him in for tea and sweets. He enjoyed his visits with her, learning manners, and what things were like "back when she was a kid". In the summer he would go visit once in awhile. This went on for a few years, but as the years went on, the visits became scarce during the summer. Then, one spring, right around grading day, he was asked to go visit. When he got there, she had a new bike for him, and all she had to say was, "It's so that you can come visit me more." I have a feeling he walked away with more than a sense of responsibility.

MIKE UNCORKED - All the Month's a Stage!

Merry Christmas Wolfville!

Stop shaking your heads, I know it's only August! But lately the feeling of Christmas has been in the air with the recent film being shot on Main Street and it just felt like an appropriate greeting. What a great experience it was to be transported to another time and place with just a few decorations-I enjoyed having the film crew here, I hope you did too!

With Christmas behind us, why not transport yourself and your friends and family to other destinations before the summer ends. Below are some fabulous live theatre suggestions perfect for an evening of great entertainment!

1 CENTRESTAGE THEATRE IN KENTVILLE HAS AN OUTSTANDING PRODUCTION OF ROBERT HARLING'S STEEL MAGNOLIAS FINISHING UP THIS MONTH. With a stellar, pitch-perfect cast of terrific local ladies, the action takes place at Truvy's beauty shop as six southern beauties bond over haircuts, gossip and everyday blessings. Fans of the film (starring Sally Field) will fall in love as the sharp comedy and poignant drama unfolds on stage. This heartwarming and charming theatrical experience should not be missed! Steel Magnolias has evening performances on August 20th and 21st and August 27th and 28th. It's highly recommended to call 678-8040 and make reservations.

2 TAKE THE OPPORTUNITY TO CHECK OUT THE VALLEY SUMMER THEATRE PRODUCTION OF THE WOMAN IN BLACK BEING PERFORMED AT THE AL WHITTLE THEATRE UNTIL AUGUST 22ND. Adapted

by Stephen Mallatratt, based on the book by Susan Hill and brought to the stage by Director Pamela Halstead, this spine-tingling experience will keep you in suspense until the very end. With amazing performances by leads Robert Seale and Rhys Bevan-John, the Woman in Black is a play-within-a-play that tells the haunting tale of a mysterious Woman and the how's and why's of her presence at the seaside house where she once lived. With a stunning use of lighting and sound, the Woman in Black made me smile and jump! Check it out!

3 REMEMBER THIS NAME: FAME! EDELANE THEATRE COMPANY PROUDLY PRESENTS THEIR PRODUCTION OF THE HIT MUSICAL STARRING THEIR MUSICAL THEATRE INTENSIVE SUMMER CAMP TROUPE OF YOUNG ACTORS AND ACTRESSES. Great for kids and the kid in all of us, Fame takes places in New York as young dancers strive to reach their personal best at a tough dance academy. Director Kerri Leier, Music Director Melissa Vidito and Choreographer Tracey Nasson-Fritz promise a fun and foot-stomping good time. Fame is being performed at the Al Whittle theatre on August 25th at 7:30 and on August 26th at 2 and 7:30. Call 697-2515 for tickets or purchase them at the door.

ENJOY THE SHOWS EVERYONE!!

FREEWILL
ASTROLOGY

HOROSCOPES FOR WEEK OF AUGUST 19TH, 2010 © Copyright 2010 Rob Brezsnny

ARIES (March 21-April 19):

In the 18th century, the French Academy laid down rules about the differences between professional and amateur paintings. For example, it was decreed that true artists must create a “licked surface,” hiding all evidence of their brushstrokes. The illusion was more convincing that way; viewers could sink their attention fully into the image without being distracted by thoughts about the artist’s process. When the Impressionists barged into the scene in the 1870s, one of their rebellions against convention was to reject the licked surface. By making some of their brushstrokes visible, they declared they weren’t interested in upholding the artifice. They wanted their audience to get involved in their subjective interpretation of the scene that was portrayed. In the coming week, Aries, I encourage you to be like the Impressionists. Forget about trying to present a licked surface. Reveal the inner workings that are whirling and humming behind your eyes.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): If your home is like a museum, a staid assemblage of fine memories, I suggest you shake things up a bit. If your imagination is filled with tape loops that keep running storylines you’ve heard a thousand times before, shake things up a bit. If your daily actions are so thoroughly possessed by the anesthetizing demons of habit that you can’t recall your last creative innovation, shake things up a bit. On the other hand, there’s no need for blame. Don’t berate yourself for your sluggishness. It was an inevitable byproduct of your efforts to solidify and stabilize your life. Just slip into a more playful mode and enjoy a bout of experimentation.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Maybe you know a person like my friend Joanna. She’s bright but terse, open-minded but not chatty. Like an inscrutable Buddha, she watches everything closely and churns her thoughts carefully. Silence is her ally. Now and then, though, when moved by an inner prompting that has nothing to do with drinking wine, she will suddenly erupt with a torrent of sweet talk and pithy observations and wild explorations. I predict that for you, Gemini, the entire world -- even the parts of it that are not usually very forthcoming -- will soon resemble Joanna when she’s overflowing.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): This would be an excellent time for you to get aggressively inventive about your education. It wouldn’t be too crazy, in my opinion, to launch your own school, with you as the only student. You could design your own course curriculum for the coming years. Decide who your teachers will be. Think about where you can get the stuff you’ll need to expand your mind, enhance your skills, and just plain increase your intelligence. You could call your center of higher learning the University of Willy Exuberance or the Academy of Astonishing Grace or the Institute of Getting Down to Business.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): For the people of Finland, the word sisu describes a quality they regard as integral to their national character. It refers to a courageous strength of will that can be sustained for a long time -- a staunch ferocity that refuses to be defeated. We all could use more of that good stuff, not only to weather our personal ordeals but also to stay plucky in the face of the world’s lunacy. The coming weeks will be an especially good time for you to build up your reserves of sisu, Leo. How? Start by taking inventory of all the resources and allies and skills you have at your disposal.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): “Ever upstream from myself,” wrote Belgian poet Edmond Vanderammen. “I advance, implore and pursue myself.” I suggest you adopt that attitude, Virgo. Assume that your best self is sailing along at a rapid clip, somewhere in the distance ahead of you, and it’s your job to catch up. Your highest form of expression is eluding you, but you’re hunting it down. The most beautiful possible embodiment of all your potentials is surging toward the future, and it’s your fun job to close the gap between you and unite with it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): In one possible scenario I could foresee for you in the coming week, you’re sweaty and tearful, enmeshed in an extreme state that causes an internal blockage to dissolve. The sweat is purgative, the tears are cathartic, and you’re riding a wave of relief and release that clears out a backlog of emotional congestion. In a second possible future, I could see you as supernaturally relaxed and exuberant, periodically laughing so hard that you break up an internal blockage. The calm is purgative, the laughter is cathartic, and you’re riding a wave of relief and release that clears out a backlog of emotional congestion. Which scenario would you prefer?

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Last June, comedian Stephen Colbert reported that President Obama’s big TV address to Americans about the Gulf catastrophe was a failure because it went over the heads of too many people. Language experts who analyzed Obama’s speech determined that it was written at a tenth-grade level -- too professorial, scolded Colbert. I wonder what he would say about the horoscopes I compose, which are designed for readers who enjoy thinking metaphorically and have a high degree of emotional intelligence. In the coming week, Scorpio, I suggest that you take the approach that Obama and I use rather than the one Colbert (farcically) recommended. Don’t talk down to your audience or pander to the lowest common denominator. Raise everyone up with your appeals.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): My favorite baseball player Tim Lincecum told San Francisco magazine: “I think you either get in the canoe with your oar and control the boat, or get into it and let the current take you. I’m kind of in between. I want to be able to enjoy the ride but don’t want to be swept away by it. I don’t want to be overwhelmed; I want to see what’s going on.” Whether you are customarily the type of person who controls the boat or the type who enjoys drifting dreamily along, I suggest you take Lincecum’s in-between approach for now. Be half in charge and half surrendered.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): The poet Jean Perrin dreamed “of marrying the dawn with the light of the moon,” and I invite you to do the same. The darkness you’ve been immersed in will leave you soon. As it does, please don’t forsake the pale, moon-like radiance that has provided you with a bit of guidance and consolation. Rather, bring along what it has taught you as you head into the far brighter phase you’re entering. In other words, retain some of the wisdom the dim light has compelled you to learn.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): I know two people in their 80s who have accomplished a sensational long-running creative art project: They’ve been happily married for 65 years. The amount of reinvention they’ve had to dream up in order to keep loving each other is so profound that it confounds the imagination. How could they possibly have continued to stay closely interwoven through all the changes each of them has gone through as they’ve aged? During the fascinating relationship tests that will be coming your way in the weeks ahead, Aquarius, I’d love for you to summon some of their dogged ingenuity and tenacious collaborative skills. In fact, I predict you will be able to do just that.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): For the last 20 years, I’ve worn just one brand of shoes -- all-black Converse high-top sneakers. I’ve had them on them at weddings and while jogging, at my daughter’s high school graduation and while performing at my shows. Am I too set in my ways? Definitely. In any case, Pisces, don’t be like me. Whatever your version of covering your feet with nothing but black Converse high-top sneakers may be, the upcoming weeks will be an excellent time to change your ways. Break out and branch out! Try something new about how you present yourself -- the equivalent of me switching over to suede moccasins or snakeskin cowboy boots.
